Dr. Robert L. Dean, Jr.

GENESIS

Book of Beginnings

Four Questions:

- 1. Isn't Genesis one myth comparable to other ancient legends and mythologies?
- 2. Could there be millions of years between Gen. 1:1 and 1:2 and could this not be the time frame for historical geology, the dinosaurs, and cave men?
- 3. How long are the days?
- 4. Could God have used evolution as a mechanism for creation?

Gen. 1:1 In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.

Gen. 1:2 And the earth was formless and void, and darkness was over the surface of the deep; and the Spirit of God was moving over the surface of the waters.

Gen. 1:3 Then God said, “Let there be light”; and there was light.

Gen. 1:4 And God saw that the light was good; and God separated the light from the darkness.

Gen. 1:5 And God called the light day, and the darkness He called night. And there was evening and there was morning, one day.

2Cor. 4:6 For God, who said, “Light shall shine out of darkness,” is the One who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

1 John 1:5 And this is the message we have heard from Him and announce to you, that God is light, and in Him there is no darkness at all.

John 8:12 Again therefore Jesus spoke to them, saying, “I am the light of the world; he who follows Me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.”

Gen. 1:6 Then God said, “Let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters.”

Gen. 1:7 And God made the expanse, and separated the waters which were below the expanse from the waters which were above the expanse; and it was so.

Gen. 1:8 And God called the expanse heaven. And there was evening and there was morning, a second day.

Gen. 1:6 ¶ Then God said, “Let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters.”

Gen. 1:7 And God made the expanse, and separated the waters which were area.

Isa. 40:12 Who has measured the waters in the hollow of His hand, and marked off the heavens by the span, and calculated the dust of the earth by the measure, and weighed the mountains in a balance, and the hills in a pair of scales?

Isa. 40:22 It is He who sits above the vault of the earth, and its inhabitants are like grasshoppers, Who stretches out the heavens like a curtain and spreads them out like a tent to dwell in.

Jer. 4:25 I looked, and behold, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens had fled.

Isa. 13:10 For the stars of heaven and their constellations will not flash forth their light; The sun will be dark when it rises, and the moon will not shed its light.

Heb. 9:24 For Christ did not enter a holy place made with hands, a mere copy of the true one, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us;

Gen. 1:17 And God placed them in the expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth,

Gen. 1:20 ¶ Then God said, “Let the waters teem with swarms of living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth in the open expanse of the heavens.”

Ezek. 1:22 Now over the heads of the living beings there was something like an expanse, like the awesome gleam of crystal, extended over their heads.
